

DENIKINE'S FEEBLE ARMY HELD AT BAY

6000 Soldiers, Ill and Hungry. Beg Shelter for Themselves and Families

POLES TAKE PITY ON THEM

By the Associated Press

London, March 5.—The complete elimination of the forces of General Denikin in south Russia has been brought about, according to expert interpretation of the War Office advice of the last week's operations.

With the Reds in possession of portions of the Tikhovskaya-Petrovskaya Railway, General Denikin's only lateral means of communication by which it would be possible to ship troops to weak points of his line is paralyzed, and contact with the Caspian fleet is imperiled.

A large detachment of Denikin's army under General Bredow has reached the Polish lines near Kamenetz-Podolsk, says a London Times dispatch from Warsaw.

These forces are the remains of the corps from west of the Dnieper which have been without a base since the Bolshevik occupation of Odessa.

The detachment numbers 6000 men, mostly of the cavalry, and is accompanied by as many women and children. Almost three-quarters of the company are reported suffering from typhus.

This miserable wreck of an army, the Times correspondent says, has been making its way north, seeking a sanctuary for troops which no longer represent an effective fighting force.

The Rumanians refused their passage of the Dniester river, whereupon General Bredow entered into negotiations with the Polish general, Kralewski.

As a result the Russians are being gathered at a central camp near the Ukrainian border, where their care and feeding is said to be presenting a difficult problem.

It has been confirmed that General Kappel, commander-in-chief of the western armies of the Kolchak government, died from frostbite on a Czech hospital train.

Warsaw, March 5.—(By A. P.)—Demands that the Bolsheviks enter into peace negotiations without agreeing to an armistice are embodied in the latest proposals made to the soviet government by Poland.

It is contended by the Poles that if an armistice is agreed to, the Bolsheviks will take advantage of the time to concentrate troops and re-enforce various points along the front where they are now to mass forces.

Delegates from Finland and Latvia have arrived here to confer with Foreign Minister Patek. Other states, including Rumania, are expected to send delegates soon. Poland's proposals of peace will be wired to Premier Miller and Lloyd George before being submitted to the Bolsheviks.

Among the crimes of which he was accused was the dynamiting of a train from Puebla carrying a number of Boy Scouts who were students in a German school in that city. Nine boys were killed by the bandits, who believed they were soldiers.

For Second Time Dutch Deny Allies' Request—New "Residence" Nears Completion

The Hague, March 5.—(By A. P.)—The Dutch Government today for the second time refused to deliver the former German emperor to the Allies for trial.

In a note addressed to David Lloyd George, the British premier, however, the government promised to take all necessary measures to minimize the efforts of Wilhelm and prevent him from endangering the world's peace.

Night and day shifts are working on the emperor's new residence at Doorn, and it is reported he will move there from Amerongen on May 12. A high fence about the house at Doorn, to which objection was made at first because it obstructed a public road, is now nearly completed, the authorities having waived opposition to the work.

A trainload of furniture arrived at Doorn from Berlin several months ago and recently five additional truck loads were received there.

While unprotected by high walls or a moat, the Doorn estate is now in reality a 200-acre cage that can be easily guarded and within which the Dutch Government expects William Hohenzollern to spend the rest of his days.

MRS. GOULD IS FILM STAR

Signs Contract for "Movies" After Marriage Is Dissolved

London, March 5.—(By A. P.)—Mrs. Frank Jay Gould, whose marriage was recently dissolved by the courts in Paris, has signed a contract to become a film star with a new British moving-picture combination, according to today's newspapers.

She will receive a salary which is considered phenomenal for Great Britain, it is said.

The Longest Way 'Round

When you buy furniture—you buy varnish.

When you buy Valspar, you buy a waterproof varnish.

If Valspar can make enough people know about this waterproof quality, it will win public favor.

When Valspar has won public favor, furniture makers and furniture sellers will wish to make profit on Valspar's good will.

Then you will be told boastfully by the furniture salesman—"This is a Valspar finish."

Advertising works directly when it induces you to buy the varnish in the can.

Advertising works no less profitably when indirectly it causes the public to favor furniture that has a Valspar finish.

What do you make that would be benefited by either direct or indirect public favor and patronage?

Seen in the Chestnut St Shops

It has been said that Chestnut Street is a high-priced street, but if the truth be known it is really one of the lowest-priced streets in America; for, while the Chestnut Street Shops do not carry the class of merchandise purchased by the improvident, Chestnut Street merchants do carry the better quality of lower-priced articles, and it is a question if any one can afford, from a standpoint of economy, to purchase lower-priced articles than those sold on Chestnut Street.

YOU will want to drive through the park on one of those delightful spring days that are in store for us in the near future, and if you have never taken this ride in an electric car, you should make an appointment at the showroom of their stock in trade. This sale offers you an opportunity to secure a good electric iron at a very reasonable price. Then there are brooms and mops, just in time for housecleaning—and since Miller carries only the best quality of household goods, the trouble of investigation. Aluminum pans, which need no recommendation to any one who has ever used aluminum cooking utensils, are also included in the sale, and among other things are glass tumblers in colonial design.

THE custom of giving fruit is as old as the custom of gift-giving itself, for in the tombs of the kings of Egypt we find carved figures bearing aloft offerings of fruit. The custom is just as popular today as it was in those ancient times, and we are more fortunate than they, for they had only the fruits which grew in the valley of the Nile, and we have those and more. In an exquisite Gift Basket of Fruit from the store of Henry R. Hallowell & Son, Broad Street below Chestnut, you will find those great clusters of delicious Hothouse Grapes from Belgium, Beurre d'Ango Pears, Spanish Almonds, Florida Strawberries—in fact, the most gorgeous fruits from all parts of the world. Perfect delivery of these Gift-Baskets of Fruit is guaranteed 1000 miles.

ALMOST every one loves salted nuts; that is, when they are as crisp and fresh as those at Yahn & McDonnell's store at 1508 Chestnut Street. Salted nuts are really indispensable at a tea or a dinner party and are most appetizing at all times. Philadelphians are discovering, too, that the glazed nuts at Yahn & McDonnell's are particularly delicious. As in the manufacture of their candies, quality is the paramount consideration in the preparation of both the salted and glazed nuts. That is why they are so palatable. You will be interested in knowing that Easter eggs are arriving and lastly just as good now as they do at Easter time. There are some wonderfully creamy coconut ones covered with chocolate that are most delicious.

ONE of the first considerations in the choice of the place to which one repairs daily for one's luncheon is cleanliness. When I recommend a tea room to my friends the first question that greets me is, "Are you sure it's clean?" So I am glad to be able to tell you that at the new kitchen connected with the Aldine Tea Room, Chestnut above Nineteenth Street, all food is prepared under the most sanitary conditions possible. Indeed, the kitchen is not the least attractive part of this little group of rooms, for there is something fascinating about the shining stoves and the great, clean refrigerator and the white tables with their trays of pastry. There is real satisfaction in the knowledge that one's luncheon is carefully prepared as well as daintily served.

THE reason why so many of us hate to get up in the morning is that we have spent an uncomfortable night and are trying to make up for lost time by snatching "forty winks" after the alarm clock has sounded. By the time you have tossed around all night on a hard, uncomfortable mattress, you feel that you can sleep on any kind of bed. But this is not the kind of slumber conducive to good health. Rest that is of real benefit is induced by a comfortable mattress and box spring. I am anxious to recommend to you the mattresses of curled horsehair made by H. D. Dougherty & Co., 1632 Chestnut Street. They also make a horse spring which, with the mattress, is a combination which spells comfortable rest.
